DETAILED ACTION

Specification and Claim Objections

1. On p. 8, paragraph 27 and in claim 14 of the application, applicant fails to address the definition of the “E” in the equation. The examiner believes this is mean to refer to the estimated value of the enclosed quantity. If this is correct, applicant should amend the claim to make this clear, for example, by inserting -- ‘E[]’ denotes the estimated value,-- in the explanation section under the equation. If the “E” does not refer to the estimated value, then whatever “E” represents should be defined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

The implementation of the determination of the QoS (Quality of Service) parameter is insufficiently disclosed. It is unclear whether an input based on the signal received at the antenna array from the mobile is needed to determine the QoS parameter or not. In Fig. 2, there is no input from the array antenna 201 to the QoS determining part 204, so that it does not appear that the QoS parameter is being determined from the mobile or the received signal. However, in applicant's reply, in the first paragraph of p. 12, applicant states that the QoS could be based upon a signal to interference and noise ratio (SINR). However, this would require the QoS determining portion receiving as an input some information about the signal being received at the antenna array (i.e. the mobile's signal strength, and the interference strength being measured at the array. Because of this inconsistency, one skilled in the art would not be able to make and/or use the invention.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
